Social Inclusion through Leisure, Creativity and Diverse-Abilities

5th-10th June 2017

(Arrival: 4th June; Departure: 11th June)

Cooperativa "Tierra y Libertad", El Bosque, Cadiz, Andalucia, SPAIN

In the heart of the slopes of the Grazalema Nature Park, a stone's throw from Hurones Reservoir Lake and Majaceite River and between the "white" villages of Ubrique and El Bosque, sits "TIERRA Y LIBERTAD", an agri-environmental cooperative self-managed by the Countryside Workers Union, with its own organic farming and agriculture.

There will be a cook to prepare the meals however the participants will be required to partake in the daily tasks which allow living together to be an easier experience; preparation and giving a hand in the kitchen, cleaning the common areas etc.

Target Group: Youth workers and social workers or volunteers intending to work in this area, active at local or international level working with young people in the field of social inclusion, participation and/or transformation. It is not necessary to have experience working or volunteering with people with diverse abilities; however participants should be interested in working with topics of diversity and equal opportunities as well as being motivated in using free time activities, open and public spaces, Non Formal and Popular Education and creative tools for this area of work.

Aim of the Project: Build together and share a working methodology which serves as a strategy for INCLUSIVE social development for territories in differing situations of economic and social crisis, through methods of Popular and Non Formal Education, alternative and creative uses of public spaces, which is transferable and applicable to the different realities of the partner organisations and collaborates with the social and labour inclusion of the young people of these organisations and their local communities.

Specific Objectives:

- Develop professional competences which are applicable in youth work in the European and international field through social and creative techniques and self-managed activities for the community which, moreover, are used to raise awareness about diversity and social and professional inclusion of young people in general as well as young people with functional diversity in particular.
- Generate a space which allows intercultural learning, dialogue and debate around the current situation for young people in Europe and in neighbouring countries and promote creative, educational and free time open air activities which foment critical analysis and creation of proposals for transformation through social and cultural animation and young enterprising, which can give way to new projects working alongside each other within the same itinerary in the framework of the Erasmus Plus Programme.
- Strengthen the feeling of European citizenship and solidarity through the creation and transmission of messages and activities related to the opportunities which Erasmus + offers as a strategy for social inclusion carried out for and by young people.

Content Areas:

- The "Group" and Popular/Non Formal Education
- Inclusion/Exclusion, Development, Diversity and Diverse Abilities
- Project Cycles, Inclusion Strategies and Adaptations for People with fewer Opportunities
- Creativity and Free Time Activities as a Tool for Transformation
- Good Practices, "Putting into Practice" and Future Steps

These contents and objectives are outlined through training workshops with participatory methodology in Popular and Non Formal Education, learning by doing and Education in Values, applying creative tools and self-managed activities in learning and living together and inclusive free time and leisure, sharing Good Practices from the partner organisations and the coordinating association, and a final action to put into practice what has been experienced.

At a European and international level and more long-term, this project tries to generate a Non-Formal international associative network which plans an itinerary of work together, following the line of creativity as a tool of transformation and inclusion in the work with young people with diverse abilities, analysing results, giving visibility and providing an element of transferability to other projects and other organisations.

Food and accommodation costs are covered by the project.

It is important that although the duration of the journey takes longer, that all participants arrive in Ubrique on the 4th June as we will meet in the village to go together to the farm (public transport is not so accessible in the mountainside). Below you will find an example of bus times from Seville and Malaga to Ubrique.

It is possible to reserve the flights up to 2 days prior or posterior to the arrival and departure date if the participants would like to spend free time in the area, the travel costs will be covered the same, however outside of the project dates the food and lodging will not be covered by the project.

Preparatory Work:

- Unusual/unknown/unexpected facts, your favourite music, food, drink, jokes...etc. from your country.
- A presentation of your organisation and situation of inclusion/exclusion of the collective you work with.
- Examples of Good Practices from your organisation and/or local community.

Try to be original! :D

Please inform us of any type of allergy or specific needs.
