

Who are we ?

Solidarités Jeunes (SJ) is a popular or non formal education movement and association that places solidarity, voluntary commitment and political will at the heart of its project. Our choices and actions affirm our vision for a society where progress is above all social, where respect for human beings and their environment is a founding and shared value, where the freedom to choose, to dream and to resist is innate (born with) or accompanied.

Our activities are aimed at everyone, regardless of age, nationality or social and cultural background.

By its origin, SJ participates concretely in the construction of peace, by promoting intercultural en counters, in France as well as abroad.

As a popular/non formal education association, SJ relies on participatory pedagogy that encourages initiative, values the commitments of each individual and unites the strengths and intelligence of its volunteers and employees.

Solidarités Jeunes, is a national secretariat based in Paris and eight regional delegations, which welcomes French and foreign volunteers from time to time or throughout the year, but also young people in difficulty as part of solidarity actions and the fight against exclusion. All our delegations are located on original sites (old factory, high altitude village, municipal campsite, village house, castle or farmhouse !).

These sites have all been renovated over the years by many volunteers, employees and permanent residents who live there, cross and succeed one another.

Being volunteer at Citrus and Solidarités Jeunes

Volunteering is an exchange between a person who offers their time, energy, and vision for the benefit of a project of general interest. It is also an opportunity to learn, to experience interculturality and personal construction.

Volunteering is first and foremost a personal commitment.

Why do we welcome international volunteers ?

- to allow an intercultural dimension and exchange within all our projects.
- to allow each person evolving within the association to be enriched by the contribution of international volunteers (open-mindedness, self-confidence, discovery of other cultures, learning one or several new languages...)
- to stimulate local development by relying on the motivation and contributions of international volunteers in our work with local associations and inhabitants of the territory.

Did you know ?

The first workcamps were organized shortly after the First World War, in Verdun area. Volunteer-citizens, from opposite countries during the war, eager to work towards reconciliation, crossed borders to meet each other, to work together for the benefit of all...

citrus & Laguéprie village

Created in Toulouse in 2002, the Citrus association moved in 2012 to Laguéprie, a small village in Tarn-et-Garonne in the Aveyron Gorges, 1h30 north-east of Toulouse. The volunteers live in an old house in the center of the village.

Most of the activities take place on the heights of the village, in the hamlet of La Mayounelle, around the restoration of an old farmhouse.

Accommodation

You will live with about six to ten other volunteers in a house located in the heart of the village with three living rooms, an office with a computer, a landline telephone¹, internet and wifi, a kitchen and bathroom, and a large garden.

In the house there are three bedrooms, one with about 8 beds, one with 5 beds and one with 3 beds.

You will share your room and your house with the other volunteers. One of the objectives of the volunteering is to live together, to share this space with respect for each and everyone. The rules of life of the house are those of the association and of the French legal framework, not debatable²; and those that you will choose among yourselves³, according to the needs of each one and in mutual respect.

To be involved in the daily life of the group is important, as in a large shared apartment where everyone is responsible for the smooth running of the collective life.

The house is like its inhabitants : it will be your home for several months ! This house is yours and it is also an international hosting center, where each person welcomed can come and live a unique experience of caring and collective group life. You will therefore be led to share the house with young people welcomed in the framework of our group or youth hosting.

By committing yourself as a volunteer, you are embarking on a unique life experience, discovering yourself and others, learning other languages, discovering or enjoying the pleasure of living in the countryside and having a positive impact on the young and not-so-young people we accompany in their life journey.

¹ Landline telephone : please note that calls abroad not included in the package are at the expense of the volunteer

² Example : prohibition to drink alcohol when receiving minors.

³ Example : no noise after 10pm for the respect of everyone's sleep.

Volunteer at Citrus

It means being fully involved in the association's activities, which are multiple, intense and bring different audiences to meet, work and sometimes live together.

Thanks to its roots in rural areas, Citrus carries out gardening projects, cooking with a local producers network, building renovation, European cultural encounters, promotion of voluntary work, activities with various local associations, workcamps and workshops.

Citrus values

Doing together

« If you've come to help me, you're wasting your time. But if you've come because you think your liberation is tied to mine, Then let's work together. »

I ♥ educ pop

Popular education or non formal education, is education that is not framed in the traditional structures of the family, school or university. It is also the education of each person by each person : education that does not come from above, from the dominant classes, but that seeks, shares, exchanges, is inspired by all popular cultures, giving equal dignity to all classes of society.

Active solidarity

Local anchoring

An educational action

To be volunteer at Citrus is to carry the values of the association through these activities :

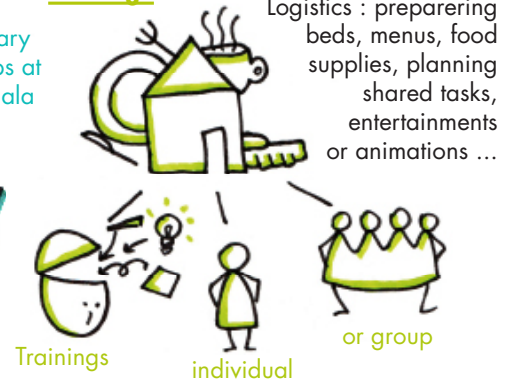

International Workcamp

Animations locales

Hostings

Volunteer promotion

The missions of the volunteers are very varied :

- participate each week in existing activities such as chantier (workcamp), various organisationnal meetons, local animations.
- actively participe to daily life of the volunteers and managment of the house : group life, animations, cooking, making menus and shopping, household tasks, organizing themselves together...
- support the association in its reception of groups or individuals. When young people with fewer opportunities are accommodated in the house, or when Citrus hosts a seminar or a training course.
- animate one or more international workcamps for minors or young adults during the summer.
- the volunteers are the ambassadors of the structure, sometimes they will promote international volunteering at local or national events.

Collective life

Weekdays : 5 days a week, usually Monday to Friday in 35 hours ⁴. Your personal involvement and the specific needs of Citrus activities, such as group hosting, SJ life and local events regularly impact this schedule. Weekend activity days are recuperated the following week.

All year round : on the permanent construction site of the Mayounelle and in the daily tasks : cooking, washing up, gardening, take care of the chickens etc. There are also hostings for groups, individuals or training courses. You will have regular individual meetings with your tutor to accompany you on your journey.

In the spring : at the Solidarités Jeunesses group, at an international workcamp animation training and the Citrus General Assembly.

From June to September, volunteers take part in or lead one or more international workcamps.
